AUTHORS CAMPAIGNING IN BRUSSELS

Fair Remuneration for Screenwriters and Directors

FSE, together with FERA, endorsed SAA's flyer What's missing in the Directive proposal for the remuneration of audiovisual authors online?

REMUNERATION OF AUDIOVISUAL AUTHORS ONLINE WHAT'S MISSING?

FAIR AND PROPORTIONATE REMUNERATION

i.e. linked to exploitation revenues

In the audiovisual sector, thousands of screenwriters and directors need EU legislation to establish such remuneration for online exploitation of their works in the Digital Single Market.

They need:

- 1 A REMUNERATION RIGHT
- 2 UNWAIVABLE & INALIENABLE
- 3 PAID BY THE END DISTRIBUTOR
- 4 COLLECTIVELY NEGOTIATED & ENFORCED

This flyer was published on the occasion of a breakfast briefing organised by SAA at the European Parliament on 2nd March 2017, hosted by Jean-Marie Cavada MEP, Vice-Chair of the Legal Affairs' committee. David Kavanagh (FSE Executive officer) and Marie Roussin (French TV screenwriter, FSE board member) spoke at the event. The programme of discussions included audiovisual authors' testimonies on their different situation depending on their country and why they need EU intervention ; the presentation of the joint SAA, FERA and FSE proposal of an unwaivable remuneration right for the online exploitation of audiovisual works and an interactive discussion on the different elements of the proposal and why it has to be introduced in the Copyright Directive, with the active participation of MEPs, assistants, advisors, authors and CMOs present.

EPP group hearing on copyright

On 11th January 2017, the Group of the European People's Party (EPP) held a hearing on copyright in the European Parliament. ECSA Secretary General Patrick Ager was invited to present the Authors' Group (ECSA, FERA, EFJ, FSE, EWC) views with respect to the value gap proposals of the copyright directive. Patrick Ager's main argument focused on the necessity to strengthen the directive's provisions with respect to fair contractual remuneration of authors and to support the elements of the directive related to the liability of online platforms.

FSE meeting DG Education and Culture

FSE has been convened by DG Education and Culture at EU Commission to an information meeting in Brussels on 4th April 2017 on collective agreements and remuneration of creators. "The purpose is to have an exchange of information on collective agreements in the creative sectors and the challenges creators may face in relation to collective bargaining as a tool to improve their remuneration conditions. This should help us gain a better insight into concrete situations faced by creators and possibilities that can be explored in terms of collective action, also against the background of the findings of recent European Commission's studies on the fair remuneration of authors and performers".

FSE meeting DG Communications Networks, Content and Technology

On behalf of DG Communications Networks, Content and Technology, the consortium consisting of the policy research organisations KEA European Affairs (Belgium), Attentional (UK) and VVA (Italy) are conducting a study on the Promotion of European Works in Audio-visual Media Services. This assignment deals with the measures for the promotion and production of European works and independent productions in linear service providers and the production of and access to European works in non-linear service providers. The aim of the study is to provide the Commission with the tools and information for the monitoring and evaluating of the impacts of art. 13, 16 & 17 of the AVMS Directive. FSE has been invited for an interview by VVA, looking for feedback from stakeholders in order to collect relevant information on the latest market trends and the critical reflections.
